

October 18, 2006

PAXUS LLC announces IBM Advanced Partner Status.

For immediate release

Contact:

Layton Christensen

403.218.1570

Omaha, NE

October 12, 2006 – PAXUS LLC, a leading provider of software applications in the Payments Processing Industry, has achieved Advanced Partner status with IBM.

PAXUS LLC has been named as an IBM Advanced Partner due to its competency in integrating IBM CICS applications with applications that execute across other platforms. The Advanced Partner certification is given to companies that have demonstrated the necessary skills, sales expertise, and successful deployments on IBM technology. With this recognition, PAXUS LLC is entitled to many of IBM's marketing, sales, and product development benefits.

IBM delivers comprehensive marketing and technical resources to Advanced Partners who are committed to a prosperous business relationship.

About PAXUS LLC.

Paxus LLC revolutionizes the payment processing environment with total portability between operating system platforms and easily configurable custom business processes. The PAXUS LLC team has expertise in all business lines of debit and credit processing with an average tenure of over 20 years of payment processing experience. For more information, visit www.paxus.com